

STATE STREET®

I have had the opportunity to work with the engineers, Architects and designers from Insoft Engineering. I have been extremely happy as well as honored to work with some of these finest people in several projects including our state of the Art derivatives processing platform as well as working on research oriented projects in the cutting edge fields of Blockchain and related technologies. One thing stood out from this team is that, they always work hard when it comes to meet the deadlines and always find solutions for some of the toughest challenges we have had.

I had relied on this team to become successful in many projects through this years. Some of them have joined us in the US because of the criticality of the role they were dealing with. I would recommend this team for their commitment for quality, timeliness as well as the unique talent they bring into various projects.
